Development Agency's Plans Said Too Vague

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Many plans and programs of the newly formed Department of Development are vague and widespread and cannot be described as primary objectives, Ohio's Little Hoover Commission says.

The study group, made up of 88 volunteer businessmen, gave that view Tuesday in its latest recommendations for streamlining Ohio's government.

The commission, describing the department's primary goal as increased employment in Ohio, criticized what it called "a shotgun approach" to objectives.

This means, the report said, that the department is attacking all fronts at once, such as the tourist business, domestic industries and foreign business, when other agencies already are at work in these areas.

The report continued: "The immediate and major objectives of this department are aimed at developing and expanding industrial activities to increase employment in Ohio, as well as co-ordinating planning by other departments toward this same purpose."

Among the commission's recommendations was establishment of standards for consultants to follow in the Federal Housing Act, which provides federal aid to cities under 50,000 population for urban planning.

The Commission said consultants, instead of the Department of Development, could provide minor data needed for a study of resources and area planning without cost to the state.

Other recommendations included:

Use existing information, publications and services of other state and federal departments.

Place present printing facilities under the information section, instead of business manager, for better supervision.

Take bids or give the State Bids any printing the department cannot handle.

The department went into operation last June to succeed the old Department of Industrial and Economic Development. Gov. James A. Rhodes has indicated he expects the department to help fulfill his campaign pledge to create 200,000 new jobs.

Tinder Dry Ohio Now in 34th Day Without Rainfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio is now in its 34th day without rain. Other than possible light showers, none is in sight.

The state is tinder dry. Woods and grass fires are on the increase. Water supplies are growing short.

"We've got a bad situation," says M.K. Idleman, head of the forest protection for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. "In the first 14 days of this month, we had 210 fires in our protection area, which covers about a third of the state."

Despite the long dry spell, fires have been kept pretty well under control "by pouncing on them," Idleman says, but some crews haven't had a day off since Sept. 24.

"No Smoking" signs are being posted on such drought-stricken public lands as wildlife refuges, state forests and parks.

Idleman said the "no smoking" rule also means no camp fires.

O. A. Alderman, chief of the state forestry division, said some 2,020 fire wardens were alerted today to stand by because weather forecasts again indicate little chance of rain.

Employees from other divisions of the Natural Resources Department are available if needed, Director Fred E. Morr said, and volunteer firemen also are on stand by notice in many areas.

Alderman met with Adj. Gen. Erwin C. Hostetler, who offered services of Ohio's (Army) National Guard pilots to observe critical areas if needed. Hostetler said Gov. James A. Rhodes approved use of Guardsmen in case of "fire emergency," but Idleman said they won't be used unless absolutely necessary.

Maury C. Koblenz, commissioner of the state correction division, said 81 prison honor inmates are available from six honor camps to assist in fire-fighting if needed.

Alderman said 40 to 60 grass fires were reported Tuesday.

Drought conditions in some areas in the eastern half of the state appeared near the critical stage. Hundreds of fires burned in the tinder-dry forestlands in the Northeast and Midwest sections.

Summer's lush green pasture land, in much of the Western rangelands and in other areas were dry and brittle. Hay shortages were reported. There was a heavy decline in feed for livestock. Milk production sagged. Marketing of cattle was higher than normal for the season.

Water levels on most of the Great Lakes and many major rivers and streams were below seasonal levels. Water shortages developed in some communities and restrictions were ordered.

No accurate estimate of the damage the drought and fires have already caused in the past several weeks was available. But the Wabash Valley Association in Indiana said that drought

Americans Note Day of Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans observe the annual National Day of Prayer today.

In a proclamation last week President Kennedy called on all Americans to pray that a "full measure of dignity, freedom and brotherhood" will be achieved by all people.

The President was scheduled to observe the day by visiting one of Washington's Roman Catholic churches to pray and meditate. Last year, the President went to St. Matthew's Cathedral.

Congress called for an annual day of prayer in 1963.

Pie Winners Are Named

First day winners of the Bake-A-Pumpkin - Pie contest were Mrs. George Lawson, 300 Sun set Drive, in the adult division and Paula Hopkins, Route 2, in the teen-age class.

Mrs. Robert Shadley, director of the contest, pointed out that the winners will not compete again until the final bake-off between 10 and 11 a. m. Saturday.

In the adult class, second place went to Mrs. Ed Owens. Third place was won by Mrs. Art Deal, Route 2, Ashville.

Sandra May, 481 E. Franklin St., was second in the teen-age division while Dawn Morrison was third. Second and third winners are eligible to compete again in the daily contest.

Judge of the competition was Marty Herbst, one of the "Betty Newtons" for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

General's Pilot Goofs

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A transport plane carrying Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, made a wheels-up crash landing today. U.S. officials said no one was hurt after the pilot neglected to lower the landing gear.

damage in southern Indiana and southeastern Illinois alone may total between $35 million and $50 million.

There appeared no immediate, general break in the long dry, mild spell across much of the eastern half of the country. Record high temperatures have been set in scores of cities in the first half of October, with readings in the 90s and upper 80s.

However, some heavy thunderstorms erupted in the Central Plains and Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms accompanied by lightning struck West Central Kansas with the first rain of consequence since Sept. 2. A four-hour storm which dumped 2.55 inches of rain on Hutchinson.

In the Southeast, 1.02 inches were recorded during a six-hour period in Miami, Fla. Thunderstorms also fell on many other parts of Florida.

Hundreds of fires have burned thousands of acres of forestland in more than a dozen states. New York state's vast and valuable forestlands appeared hardest hit. But fires also spread across other areas in the Northeast, including Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Flames also whipped through wooded areas in West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas.

Hundreds of volunteers joined firemen in fighting the fires.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney's ban on fires in forests, fields and woodlands goes into effect today, the first such statewide order in 17 years. Fire danger was rated very high, and "explosive" in a few areas.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. William W. Scranton banned smoking and campfires in state forests. Nearly 200 forest fires have been reported in the state in October.

Some of the nation's biggest rivers were at or near record low levels. Included were Pennsylvania's three major river systems, the Allegheny-Monongahela-Ohio, the Susquehanna and the Delaware. Lower water levels also have curtailed the barge traffic on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

3 Escapees Force Man To Give Ride

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Three men identified as escapees from the Lebanon Correctional Institution, seized a Warren County man at his home near here Tuesday night and forced him to a knife point to drive them to a point north of London.

Warren County Deputy Sheriff William Dyer said the victim of the abduction was Ray Gibson, 22, who lives about five miles from the correctional institution.

He said Gibson identified pictures of Edward Sova, 19; Warren Williams, 24, and Erwood Riggs, 27, as his kidnappers. They escaped from the correctional institution Monday night by crawling through a basement window at the honor dormitory.

Dyer said Gibson told officers one of the men came to his home and said his car had stalled and asked Gibson if he would give him a push.

When Gibson went out the other two men were sitting in his car and the three forced him to drive them away.

Gibson said the men told him there were two others who would be holding Gibson's wife and child if he did not drive them away.

That turned out to be false.

Word today has it that Gov. James Rhodes will be here for the show tomorrow night. He is scheduled to take part in a special event planned by the annual Public Relations Meeting of the Independent Telephone Assn. being held in Chillicothe.

According to Dan D. Hayes, executive vice president of the association, Gov. Rhodes will address the Chillicothe meeting by way of a phone call from the local General Telephone Co. office. This call will initiate Chillicothe's new direct distance dialing conversion.

Korean Poll Victor Is Strongman

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A spokesman of ex-president Yun Po-sun's Civil Rule party virtually conceded election of military strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park as president today.

Yun himself went into hiding Tuesday after the balloting.

The party's spokesman, Kim Yung-sam, said in an informal statement: "We apologize to the people who fought to the end despite various bad laws and other obstacles in this election."

Meanwhile, a spokesman of Park's Democratic Republic party issued a brief statement saying: "The presidential election battle is over. We all should let bygones be bygones and be united in our work at building the Third Republic."

While neither party made any flat statement of concession or victory, unofficial counts gave Park nearly a 100,000-vote lead.

Tabulations by South Korea's government-run radio network gave Park 4,471,300 votes to 4,379,084 for Yun.

But votes for three minor anti-government candidates totaled 780,201, demonstrating that a majority of South Korea's voters oppose Park's military-dominated regime.

It seemed apparent that the final tabulation would not end the fierce struggle between the military leaders who have ruled Korea for 29 months and the civilian politicians they displaced in the May 16, 1961, coup.

The losing side was sure to think the winner had not received sufficient mandate to rule unchallenged.

The race was close from the time the vote counting began Tuesday. No one appeared more surprised than Yun's supporters. Many had thought Park, 46, would easily win a four-year term and go on to form a government-oriented national assembly in elections Nov. 26.

Park went into the election against the advice of advisers who counseled a crackdown on the civilian opposition. He appeared to have hopes of a landslide victory endorsing his record as chief of the military junta.

The election showed that Park had lost much of the popular support he had when he seized power.

The government's Democratic Republic party prepared long and hard for the election, using much more money and influence than Yun could command.

One opposition candidate, former Premier Yo-chan Song, was jailed and severe restrictions were placed on others.

tors. Each segment of the crowd will be rooting for its favorites. The lucky winners will then take the throne occupied by last year's Queen, Miss Barbara Davis of Darby and her attendants, Sandra Palmer of Teays Valley and Pamela Mowery of Monroe.

In between and after the parades, there will be loads of entertainment in the form of band concerts, free acts and other performances. Food booths and concession stands will be going full blast all the while.

Thursday's program will be headed by the Baby Parade at 2 p. m. and the Parade of Bands at 8. Hootenannies, judo exhibitions, concerts square dancing and the like also are on the busy agenda.

Friday, the traditional "Kids Day", will start off with a Pet Parade at 2 p. m. The evening parade will be a Merchants-Industrial procession, starting at 8.

A special Friday highlight will be a performance by the U.S. Air Force Band from Wright-Patterson Field. This show is set for 7 p. m. at the W. Main St. platform.

ALTHOUGH the end will be in sight on Saturday, plenty more of activity is scheduled for the final hours. Free entertainment will be at a maximum and the crowd will probably be at its largest, providing the weatherman cooperates.

The final evening street procession will be the Winners Parade, due to start at 8. All winning floats will be announced at this time. Grand champion pumpkin pie bakers also will be publicly named.

Russia's Gold Concept

After the West's monster wheat sales to the Soviet Union, it can be expected that the Russians will demand much better terms for their goods shipped from behind the iron curtain than they have had in the past. And that new market, especially in the U.S., be opened to them.

The wheat deal is not just a matter of delivering the goods and collecting the money — most of it perhaps in gold. Trade is a two-way affair. Since the Russians are spending a billion dollars in free world wheat-producing countries, they want to sell goods in those countries to help pay for it.

The Russians have gold. How much no one outside the Kremlin knows, not even the foreign experts. It is sold carefully on the European gold market when prices and conditions are favorable.

The Soviet Union has an adverse trade balance with the western world. It needs foreign currencies to meet all sorts of obligations. Hence it sells gold to buy the currency needs.

This year it has sold more than usual, but far from a billion dollars worth. In trading with the free world, or that segment of it that is willing to trade, a major difficulty is pricing.

It is not possible to compare the cost of an article manufactured in a socialist country with a similar item made in a free enterprise country. In a socialist country an article made for export might be subject to all sorts of secret subsidies or enjoy advantages from being "coddled" as far as costs were concerned simply because it was for export.

Usually customs departments look to some other country in the same region for a "fair price" to compare. With Russian exports, Canada, for instance, has looked at Swedish prices. These Moscow has regarded as too high.

Trade has always been used by the Soviets as a propaganda weapon. There is every reason to expect that this phase of Soviet activities will be stepped up in the wake of the wheat deals.

On the Taming of Orval

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval." In addition to anger and concern, you are filled with curiosity. The method s"they" might use for getting Orval are important because you have never been able to get him yourself.

"How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Orval spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth.

A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll clear. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch. I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

It didn't work. The neighbors were giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

Then one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick.

I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me superhuman speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

In those big brown eyes I saw respect, the trademark of civilization. And as I carried him home I felt a little triumphant, a little sad, and a little guilty.

The Business World

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer (For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil companies have been in the business of taking something—petroleum — out of the ground. Now they're going into the business of putting something back—fertilizer.

A rush is on by major oil companies to get into the chemical fertilizer business. It involves investment of hundreds of million of dollars.

The oil companies feel it is a natural avenue of diversification. For one thing, their by-products, such as ammonia, are used in producing fertilizer.

Some big deals have been brought off recently and others are cooking.

Socony Mobile Oil Co. stockholders will meet Nov. 20 to vote on the proposed acquisition of Virginia-Carolina Chemical Corp. for an $80 million in stock.

Cities Service Corp. acquired Tennessee Corp., owner of valuable Florida phosphate lands last June.

The consolidation of Continental Oil Co. and American Agricultural Chemical Co., is pending.

The oil companies have come to the conclusion that in an ever more populous world where cultivated land will have to produce more and more food, the role of fertilizers, and other agricultural chemicals, becomes obviously urgent.

They are backing with big money their opinion that they are well-suited to fill that role.

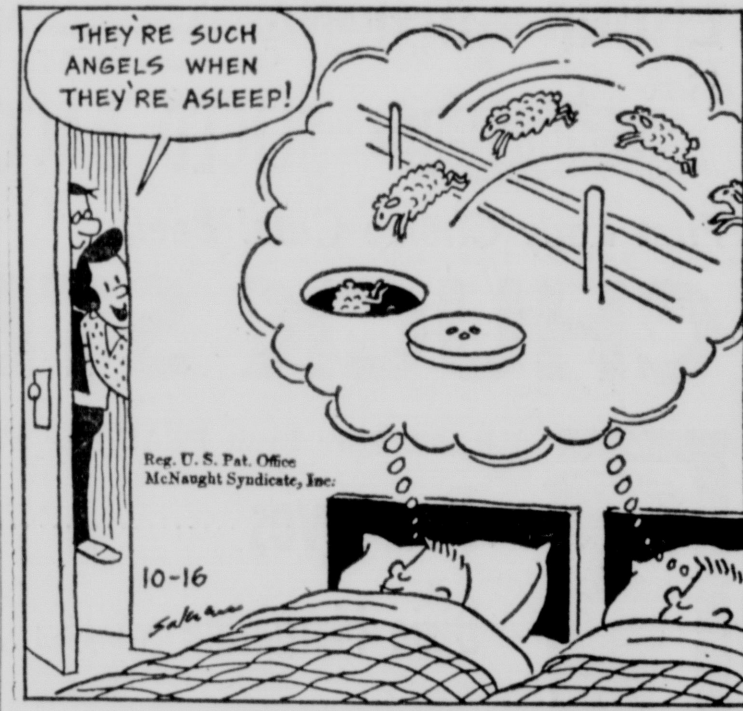

The waive of oil company acquisitions of independent fertilizer producers has aroused the interest of the government's antitrust officials.

They are concerned by such a sudden increase in industrial concentration and are apprehensive that the trend might put the remaining independent fertilizer companies at a sharp disadvantage with the well-financed oil company subsidiaries.

Justice department lawyers are taking a look at the pending acquisition proposals with the idea of stepping in if it is thought that they might tend to reduce competition and thus violate the antitrust laws.

Education of an Ambassador

By John Chamberlain

Minoo Masani, the former mayor of Bombay, India, is in this country, and he has some most interesting stories to tell about the effect of his homeland on Harvard's Professor John Kenneth Galbraith, the New Deal-Fair Deal economist who recently returned to the United States after spending two years as U. S. Ambassador in New Delhi.

According to Masani, Galbraith, after his contact with the distinctly non-affluent society of India, got to talking very much like any conservative. Right Wing — or classically liberal — economist. India's Nehru, of course, is anything but conservative or classically liberal. As head of the Indian government, Nehru has advocated Soviet-style planning, with priority being given to the "public sector" of the economy as fast as the Indian Congress Party is willing to push it. The result has been three successive Five-Year socialist plans which have resulted in a declining rate of growth, a drying-up of savings, and a stagnant condition in exports.

The Indian economy is now growing at a rate of 2.2 per cent a year, a rate which shows up horribly when it is compared with the 20 per cent pace of growth in non-socialist Japan. The average Indian, according to Masani, is no better off today than when the British pulled out of this country in 1947 for the population increases eat up the small economic gains.

Galbraith, says Masani, got a quick whiff of the true drift of Indian affairs, and proceeded to talk forthwith like an American economist of the Calvin Coolidge era. He began to lecture the Indians for putting no trust in the concept of profit. "What is this Post Office Socialism that you have?" he asked. "Don't you know that profit is a good thing?"

Since he was Ambassador to a nation which had asked the American government for the gift of a billion — and — a half dollar steel mill to be owned by the Indian State, Galbraith couldn't very well openly oppose the "public sector" idea as applied to local steel production. But when he came to sing his swan song as Ambassador last June 28 in a speech at the University of Bombay, Galbraith lit into the whole idea of putting industrial development in India ahead of agricultural development.

The central test of any policy, Galbraith told the Indians, is whether it promises to improve the position of the average person. And this average person in India is obviously the poor peasant who would like to know how to get a little more fertilizer and good seed in his hand. Steel, for him, is a distant luxury that is meaningless.

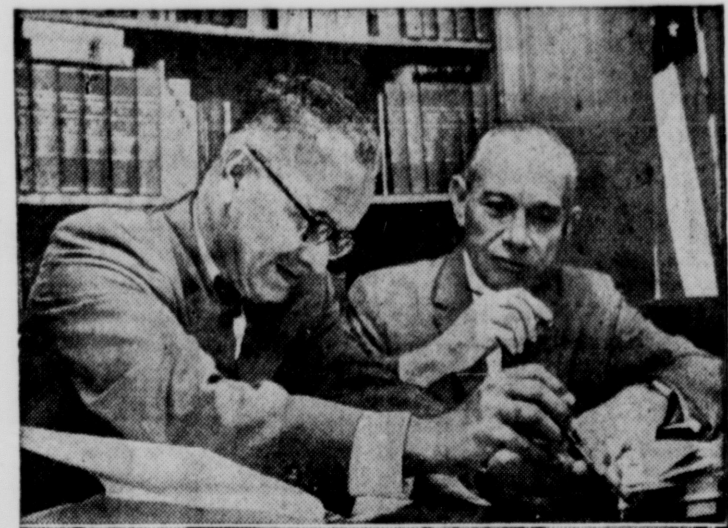

With the "average person" in mind, Galbraith attacked the Indian planners who hold the "accepted tests of the economist — the rate of investment and of economic growth." "an undue emphasis on the rate of growth," so Galbraith continued, "can lead... to undue emphasis on current savings and on increase of these savings through taxation... The average person may know of the hopes for the future. This can rarely be accepted with grace and contentment when living standards are close to the margin."

Masani, who is General Secretary of the Swatantra, or Freedom, Party of India and a member of the Indian Parliament, naturally welcomes Galbraith as an ally in the war against the "Stalin psychosis" as applied to forcing swift industrialization on an economy that hasn't solved the problem of raising enough food for itself. He knows of course, that Galbraith, now that he is back in "affluent" America, will probably revert to his old habit of knocking private enterprisers and advocating vast increases in the U.S. "public sector". Nevertheless, it might be asked whether President Kennedy can trust Galbraith to support the sort of U. S. foreign aid that steel-mill-happy dictators like Nehru and Indonesia's Sukarno invariably want.

In this connection, Masani, who has talked in Washington recently with everybody from Senator Barry Goldwater to White House aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr., had an interesting chat with Walt Rostow, the Kennedy policy adviser who has theorized rather extensively about bringing primitive and backward economies to the "take-off place" by thrusting steel mills upon them. Rostow, it seems has been guilty recently of heresy in respect to his own gospel. He has been telling the Mexicans that the development of a thriving rural economy is more important than steel.

So what goes on here? Are Galbraith and Rostow getting ready to apply for jobs under a Republican Administration? Or are they about to urge Kennedy to make sure of the 1964 election by stealing some of Barry Goldwater's clothes.

WHO'S NERVOUS?—Signing an agreement with the Export-Import Bank of Washington for a $3.9 million loan, S. L. Kirkoskar (left), chairman of the board of Bharat Forge Co. Ltd. of Poona, India, has trouble with the pen, and bank president Harold F. Linder places his own pen in his mouth to lend a helping hand.

Russia's Gold Concept

After the West's monster wheat sales to the Soviet Union, it can be expected that the Russians will demand much better terms for their goods shipped from behind the iron curtain than they have had in the past. And that new market, especially in the U.S., be opened to them.

The wheat deal is not just a matter of delivering the goods and collecting the money — most of it perhaps in gold. Trade is a two-way affair. Since the Russians are spending a billion dollars in free world wheat-producing countries, they want to sell goods in those countries to help pay for it.

The Russians have gold. How much no one outside the Kremlin knows, not even the foreign experts. It is sold carefully on the European gold market when prices and conditions are favorable.

The Soviet Union has an adverse trade balance with the western world. It needs foreign currencies to meet all sorts of obligations. Hence it sells gold to buy the currency needs.

This year it has sold more than usual, but far from a billion dollars worth. In trading with the free world, or that segment of it that is willing to trade, a major difficulty is pricing.

It is not possible to compare the cost of an article manufactured in a socialist country with a similar item made in a free enterprise country. In a socialist country an article made for export might be subject to all sorts of secret subsidies or enjoy advantages from being "coddled" as far as costs were concerned simply because it was for export.

Usually customs departments look to some other country in the same region for a "fair price" to compare. With Russian exports, Canada, for instance, has looked at Swedish prices. These Moscow has regarded as too high.

Trade has always been used by the Soviets as a propaganda weapon. There is every reason to expect that this phase of Soviet activities will be stepped up in the wake of the wheat deals.

On the Taming of Orval

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern, you are filled with curiosity. The method "they" might use for getting Orval is important because you have never been able to get him yourself. "How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Orval spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth.

A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll clear. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch. I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

It didn't work. The neighbors were giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

Then one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick.

I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me super-human speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

In those big brown eyes I saw respect, the trademark of civilization. And as I carried him home I felt a little triumphant, a little sad, and a little guilty.

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil companies have been in the business of taking something—petroleum—out of the ground. Now they're going into the business of putting something back—fertilizer.

A rush is on by major oil companies to get into the chemical fertilizer business. It involves investment of hundreds of millions of dollars.

The oil companies feel it is a natural avenue of diversification. For one thing, their by-products, such as ammonia, are used in producing fertilizer.

Some big deals have been brought off recently and others are cooking.

Watercraft Chief Quits State Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Department of Natural Resources Tuesday announced the resignation of James D. Wells as administrator of the Division of Watercraft.

Wells, 63, of Logan, became administrator Jan. 1, 1960. He began his state service with the old Forestry Division in mid-1941.

Although Wells' resignation took effect last Tuesday, officials said he would be carried on the payroll through January because of accumulated leave.

Wells gave no reason for resigning (by letter) and did not reveal his plans, officials said.

A "Little Hoover Commission" report Oct. 1 recommended abolishing the Watercraft Division, which was formed in 1951 and merging its functions with other divisions.

C. B. Taylor of Columbus, assistant to Wells, has been designated acting chief of the division.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What is the normal blood pressure, systolic and diastolic, for young, middle-aged and older adults? Does it vary with age?

Mrs. A. D. L. California

Dear Mrs. L.: Blood pressure readings are calculated in millimeters of mercury.

The average systolic blood pressure in healthy young adults is about 120. The average diastolic pressure is about 80. These numbers are usually referred to as 120 over 80.

Variations do occur with aging. The pressure at age 60 may normally rise to 150 over 88.

The numbers themselves are not the only important representation of health or disease.

If there is any personal anxiety about blood pressure, it is wise to have a checkup, followed by a frank discussion with your doctor of any emotional concern about the meaning of the blood pressure reading.

I have had a persistent cough for the past seven years. I am 29 years old, and would like to know what damage it may have caused.

Is there any treatment I may use? I am afraid to see a physician.

Miss S. G. G. Nevada

Dear Miss G.: The exact cause of your cough should have been determined many years ago. Obviously, you are afraid that the doctor may substantiate your worst fears.

You have been doing yourself a great injustice and have been suffering unnecessarily in your anxiety about a condition that probably does not justify your fears.

Any opinion about the cause of your cough or the "damage" caused by it would be worthless without a complete examination. You should go to see your doctor immediately. You are seven years overdue.

I have a nine-year-old son who blinks his eyes and wrinkles his nose instead of just normally batting his eyes. This has continued for three months.

What can I do to help him?

Mrs. D. G. Illinois

Dear Mrs. G.: The condition you describe is usually classified as a habit spasm or a "tic." These movements which are habitually repeated frequently occur in children in your son's age group.

Most of these tics have as their origin some emotional factor. It is always wise to first rule out any physical cause. Frequently tics tend to spontaneously disappear, recurring sometimes during periods of emotional stress or fatigue.

Persistent tics may need the support of a psychotherapist. Often he will be able to determine the stress patterns that cause the tic. Psychotherapists can make suggestions to remedy the underlying cause for these habit spasms.

The child should never be mimicked or shamed in an effort to cure him. Undue pressure may only serve to prolong and intensify the condition. Kindness and patient understanding will be helpful to the eventual cure of your son's tic.

Miss Woodward, Mr. Lutz Are United in Marriage

Miss Donna Rae Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woodward, 409 Ruth Ave., became the bride of Mr. Russel E. Lutz, son of Mrs. Harley Lutz, E. Mound St., 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the First EUB Church.

The Rev. O. F. Gibbs performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of snowdrift pompons, asters, gladioli and seven-branched candelabra.

Mrs. Verneal Thomas, organist, played "To a Wild Rose", "Because", "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly".

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white jersey dress enhanced with a shirred cummerbund and side drape. She wore a white lace hat and veil and carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of white pompons and lily of the valley. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Charles H. Rhoades was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a provincial blue jersey dress with white accessories and a white feathered headband. She carried a colonial bouquet of pompons.

Mr. Tom Lutz served his brother as best man.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a black and white French crepe dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an olive green dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white pompons.

A dinner was held at the Pickaway Country Club following the wedding and the table was centered with fall flowers and candles. Hostesses were Marilyn Miller and Louise Carr.

For a wedding trip through the southern states and Florida the bride wore a white Brussels lace dress with beige accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

They reside at the A&W Trailer Court.

The new Mrs. Lutz is a 1962 graduate of Circleville High School and is employed at the Third National Bank.

Mr. Lutz is a graduate of Salt Creek High School and is owner of the Marathon Service Station, N. Court St.

Out-of-city guests were from Chillicothe, Williamsport and Columbus.

Speaker Discusses Poetry

Charles G. Will, coordinator of English, Upper Arlington High School, was guest speaker when members of Monday Club met this week in the trustees room at Memorial Hall.

Mr. Will, a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio State University, discussed "An Approach to Poetry". After explaining why poetry has a place in the Atomic Age, he suggested that most readers are unfamiliar with the names of the really new poets. People feel that the recent voices belong to Frost, Eliot, and Sandburg, while actually they antedate the true moderns by a generation.

Committees Named by Church Class

A calendar committee and a nominating committee were named when members of the Kappa Beta Class of First EUB Church met in the home of Mrs. William Goff, Pleasant St. Mrs. Tom Weaver was assisting hostess.

Mrs. Robert Dumm was a guest and showed slides and discussed the Red Bird Mission, located in Kentucky and supported by the EUB Church.

Mrs. Weaver, president, conducted the business session.

Selected for the calendar committee were, Mrs. Earl Crable, chairman; Mrs. Dixie Watters, and Miss Mary Ward. Nominating committee members are, Miss Phyllis Hawkes, chairman; Mrs. Goff and Miss Anna Mae Stiers.

An election of officers will be held next month in the home of Mrs. Elliott Hawkes. Mrs. Bill Lockard will assist.

Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Elliott Hawkes and Miss Phyllis Hawkes.

Dear Abby: His Ego Is Showing!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who tells his wife that he KNOWS he could win any woman in the world if he were given an introduction to her? This man is not rich. He is definitely nothing to look at. And unless he is in a very good mood, he is lousy company. So please tell me where he gets ideas like this.

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: I've heard of self-confidence, but this is ridiculous! But, in case your husband has a secret weapon, you'd better be careful to whom you introduce him.

DEAR ABBY: My mother Mrs. Fowler Is Honored By Family

Mrs. Grace Fowler of Pen-ton's Rest Home, Chillicothe, spent Sunday with her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and sons, Steven, Mark and Bobby Lee, Route 1.

Approximately 45 guests visited during the day including, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sowers and children Beverly and Patty, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sowers and children Dennis and Penny and George Fowler and granddaughter, all of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Creed Ward and son Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Watson and children Mary Anne, Myrtle, John, Danny, David Mark and Creed, all of Ashville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Adams and children, Linda, Jean, Kathy and Johnny, Mrs. Connie Martin and son Tommy, Chillicothe, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt, Baltimore, Mrs. Alice Dayton, Mrs. Iva Carpenter, Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seymour and children Eva Mae and Tommy Lee, Columbus.

DEAR ABBY: Why do men have to wear DARNED socks? Do you know any women these days who would wear a darned stocking? Men's socks don't cost any more than women's so why, when a woman finds a wee hole in her husband's sock, does she try to "save" it? Let her throw it in the rag bag along with her own.

LOVING WIFE

DEAR LOVING: Just keep crusading for equal rights for men and you'll soon write a DEAR ABBY letter with a husband problem. Come to think of it, I haven't seen a darned egg since the depression.

Birth, Growth, Effects Of Hurricane Traced

EDITOR'S NOTE—A tropical disturbance is formed and starts spinning westward over the Atlantic on Sept. 16, 1963. 3,000 miles southeast of Florida. It develops into Hurricane Flora, the most devastating storm recorded in the Caribbean area. The following traces its birth, growth and effects.

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Staff Writer

The day: Thursday, Sept. 26, 1963. The exact time: Unknown. The place: The tropical Atlantic, 3,000 miles southeast of the Florida coast.

The day is hot, sultry, oppressive. The wind blows in fitful gusts. The heating sea is gray and sluggish as molten lead.

A whiff of warm, damp air rises from the sea, like smoke drifting up a chimney. Other air takes its place and is caught in the updraft. Very, very slowly, an air column grows.

Rising, the warm air expands and cools. The water in it condenses and falls. Heat is released, adding energy to the thing that has formed.

Affected by the spinning of the earth, the air begins to revolve around a hollow center.

Erratically, the darkening column begins to drift westward with the trade winds.

Orbiting over the South Atlantic on Sept. 26, the Tiro 7 weather satellite photographed a poorly organized circular motion in a cloud mass.

Forecasters mark this down as an "area of suspicion" and plan to keep an eye on it.

SUNDAY, Sept. 29

6 p.m. The captain of a ship 350 miles east of Trinidad reports he is encountering light squalls and rising seas. His barometer is falling.

A hurricane hunter plane is readied at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, for a flight the next morning.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30

10 a.m. The hurricane hunter thrusts his plane through the "wall of the eye" of a small but tightly wound and "very dangerous" hurricane. It is moving fast toward the island of Tobago.

Tobago has two hours to prepare. The eye of the hurricane reaches the coast at noon.

Houses collapse under the 100-mile-an-hour winds. Torrential rain triggers floods. Towering tides bury the beaches. Seventeen islanders die.

TUESDAY, OCT. 1

In Haiti, the Negro nation on the island of Hispaniola, the sound of the sea is subtly changing. From far out comes a single long, low swell. It hits the shore of the Tiburon Peninsula with an unexpected boom. Slowly, another comes, and another.

Flora, still far away, is growing more violent.

1 p.m. The waves are breaking high over the coast of Hispaniola. The weather remains calm. Wisps of cirrus clouds spread a pale, milky haze over the sky.

Midnight: A swirling breeze intrudes on the stillness and rustles the palm fronds in Haiti. The air is charged with electricity. Breathing seems difficult.

THURSDAY, OCT. 3

8 p.m. The wall of the eye, a solid barrier of water and wind whirling savagely in toward the calm center of the hurricane, crosses the coast between Aquin and Cotes de Fer.

Funneling down the canyons between mountain ranges, gusts reach 200 miles an hour.

Solid sheets of rain turn rivers and streams into torrents. Crashing down the mountainsides, they push the crops, even the soil, into the sea.

FRIDAY, OCT. 4

1 p.m. Flora slams into Cuba's Oriente Province. Now it is the biggest hurricane in history. It torments the seas for a thousand miles, from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico.

SATURDAY, OCT. 5

A gigantic high pressure system to the north stops Flora over Cuba.

11 a.m. Flora wanders aimlessly westward, is blocked again by high pressure over the Gulf States.

SUNDAY, OCT. 6

The hurricane turns southwest back into the Caribbean, lashing Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

MONDAY, OCT. 7

The storm stalls between the cities of Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba. Never has a single area taken such a sustained beating from a hurricane.

TUESDAY, OCT. 8

After four days of fantastic rain, floods have risen to tree-top level in Eastern Cuba. Some areas never touched by floodwaters become inland seas.

1 p.m. At last, the storm moves northeast off the northeast Cuban coast.

Flora is racing toward her death over the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Now relief workers can pick their way through the mud and debris. Gradually, the awful tale unfolds:

In Haiti: More than 5,000 dead. No really accurate count is possible. Many bodies are in the sea or under the mud.

In Cuba: More than 1,000 dead. Fidel Castro's Communist regime has suffered an economic disaster.

Flora takes her place in history—the most deadly storm ever to howl out of the tropical Atlantic. The old death record of 6,000, set by the Galveston hurricane of 1900, has been exceeded.

You are safe in using pastry made with two cups of flour for an 8-inch double-crust pie. There will be some pastry scraps left over but these can always be used for turnovers or a few tarts.

Hancock Countians Lose in Court Plea

BOWLING GREEN Ohio(AP) — Two Common Pleas Court judges have turned down the appeal of a group of Hancock County residents who sought to block improvements of the middle branch of the Portage River and two creeks in Wood County.

Judges Joseph Morehead of Hancock County and Floyd A. Collier of Wood County acted Tuesday in the controversy that has brewed for about three years. The Hancock County group maintained the improvements are not needed.

Their decision was based on the fact that the improvements would cost $100,000 and that the county group had not shown that the improvements were necessary.

The Hancock County group is now considering an appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Rhodes Aide Is Loser in Libel Suit

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Summit County Common Pleas Court jury has awarded Martha B. Moore, a prominent Akron civic leader, a $32,000 judgment against the Cleveland Call & Post, a weekly Negro newspaper.

The jury deliberated four hours before returning the verdict Tuesday.

Mrs. Moore had sued for $85,000. She claimed she was damaged when the newspaper falsely reported that former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called her an "Uncle Tom."

During the court hearing an "Uncle Tom" was described as a person who seeks selfish gain for himself rather than for the good of his group.

The "Uncle Tom" reference cited Mrs. Moore appeared in Call & Post articles in March and October 1962. They purportedly were based on remarks made by DiSalle at a conference with Mrs. Moore and other Negro leaders here March 6, 1962.

William O. Walker, Call & Post publisher, said the newspaper accepted as a guest column an editorial written by Llewellyn Coles and containing the "Uncle Tom" reference. Coles is now administrative assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes and Walker is director of the Department of Industrial Relations.

SUNDAY, Sept. 29
6 p.m. The captain of a ship 350 miles east of Trinidad reports he is encountering light squalls and rising seas. His barometer is falling.

A hurricane hunter plane is readied at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, for a flight the next morning.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30
10 a.m. The hurricane hunter thrusts its plane through the "wall of the eye" of a small but tightly wound and "very dangerous" hurricane. It is moving fast toward the island of Tobago.

Tobago has two hours to prepare. The eye of the hurricane reaches the coast at noon.

Houses collapse under the 100-mile-an-hour winds. Torrential rain triggers floods. Towering tides bury the beaches. Seven-teen islanders die.

TUESDAY, OCT. 1
In Haiti, the Negro nation on the island of Hispaniola, the sound of the sea is subtly changing. From far out comes a single long, low swell. It hits the shore of the Tiburon Peninsula with an unexpected boom. Slowly, another comes, and another.

Flora, still far away, is growing in, more violent.

1 p.m. The waves are breaking high over the coast of Hispaniola. The weather remains calm. Wisps of cirrus clouds spread a pale, milky haze over the sky.

Midnight: A swirling breeze intrudes on the stillness and rustles the palm fronds in Haiti. The air is charged with electricity. Breathing seems difficult.

THURSDAY, OCT. 3
8 p.m. The wall of the eye, a solid barrier of water and wind whirling savagely in toward the calm center of the hurricane, crosses the coast between Aquin and Cotes de Fer.

Funneling down the canyons between mountain ranges, gusts reach 200 miles an hour.

Solid sheets of rain turn rivers and streams into torrents. Crashing down the mountainsides, they push the crops, even the soil, into the sea.

FRIDAY, OCT. 4
1 p.m. Flora slams into Cuba's Oriente Province. Now it is the biggest hurricane in history. It torments the seas for a thousand miles, from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico.

SATURDAY, OCT. 5
A gigantic high pressure system to the north stops Flora over Cuba.

11 a.m. Flora wanders aimlessly westward, is blocked again by high pressure over the Gulf States.

SUNDAY, OCT. 6
The hurricane turns southwest back into the Caribbean, lashing Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

MONDAY, OCT. 7
The storm stalls between the cities of Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba. Never has a single area taken such a sustained beating from a hurricane.

TUESDAY, OCT. 8
After four days of fantastic rain, floods have risen to tree-top level in Eastern Cuba. Some areas never touched by floodwaters become inland seas.

1 p.m. At last, the storm moves northeast off the north-east Cuban coast.

Flora is racing toward her death over the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Now relief workers can pick their way through the mud and debris. Gradually, the awful tale unfolds:

In Haiti: More than 5,000 dead. No really accurate count is possible. Many bodies are in the sea or under the mud.

In Cuba: More than 1,000 dead. Fidel Castro's Communist regime has suffered an economic disaster.

Flora takes her place in history—the most deadly storm ever to howl out of the tropical Atlantic. The old death record of 6,000, set by the Galveston hurricane of 1900, has been exceeded.

Judges Joseph Morehead of Hancock County and Floyd A. Collier of Wood County acted Tuesday in the controversy that has brewed for about three years. The Hancock County group maintained the improvements are not needed.

You are safe in using pastry made with two cups of flour for an 8-inch double-crust pie. There will be some pastry scraps left over but these can always be used for turnovers or a few tarts.

Hancock Countians Lose in Court Plea
BOWLING GREEN Ohio (AP) — Two Common Pleas Court judges have turned down the appeal of a group of Hancock County residents who sought to block improvements of the middle branch of the Portage River and two creeks in Wood County.

Speaker Discusses Poetry

Charles G. Will, coordinator of English, Upper Arlington High School, was guest speaker when members of Monday Club met this week in the trustees room at Memorial Hall.

Mr. Will, a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio State University, discussed "An Approach to Poetry". After explaining why poetry has a place in the Atomic Age, he suggested that most readers are unfamiliar with the names of the really new poets. People feel that the recent voices belong to Frost, Eliot, and Sandburg, while actually they antedate the true moderns by a generation.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Everybody would like to get a pay raise. That, in effect, is what the bill to cut federal taxes by $11 billion would amount to — more take-home pay.

So, impatient taxpayers weary of delay, may be excused for asking.

Why does the Senate Finance Committee have to go over ground already covered by the House Ways and Means Committee in nine months of work on the bill?

Why couldn't the Senate and House committees meet jointly, and whip the whole thing together at the same time. Or

Piqua Atomic Plant Change Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission's nuclear reactor at Piqua, Ohio, should be modified at greater expense although it already has overrun its expected cost, a congressional subcommittee has been told.

The Senate-House atomic energy unit heard testimony Tuesday on proposals to modify authorizations for projects at Piqua and at Elk River, Iowa.

The proposals would change the Piqua reactor's cost from $12,305,000 to $22,864,000 and the one in Iowa from $11,445,000 to $16,009,000.

Among witnesses was Dr. Frank K. Pittman, director of the AEC's Reactor Development Division. He said the technological data which can be gained from these small reactors will be valuable to the entire reactor program. He added that no one ever envisioned that they would be economically competitive.

If no action is taken by the committee within a 45-day period, the projects will proceed on schedule.

Niles Slaying Case Goes to Grand Jury

NILES, Ohio (AP)—David Zirwas, 28, of Lake Milton, charged with first-degree murder in the robbery-slaying of a vending machine operator last month, has been bound over to the grand jury.

Trumbull County Sheriff Robert Barnett testified at Zirwas' arraignment before Municipal Court Judge Paul B. Moritz.

The sheriff said Zirwas told the fatal shooting of Ben Krawiecki, 46, on Sept. 19 and gave his need for money as the motive.

The sheriff said Zirwas told authorities that he jumped into the rear seat of a car occupied by Krawiecki and pointed a revolver at him.

Krawiecki was shot in the back when he tried to run and the gunman drove away in the victim's car.

Police said a man of Zirwas' description robbed a Niles barber of $35 about an hour after the shooting and that night a gunman kidnaped and raped a 27-year-old woman near Lake Milton after pistol-whipping her escort. Zirwas has denied the rape.

why couldn't the Senate committee go to its separate work in advance of House passage of a tax bill?

The answer to these questions is a combination of tradition, practicality and a bit of vanity on the part of Congress members.

Taking these things in order: Tradition — Legislation dealing with taxes has to originate in the House — the Constitution requires it—and senators traditionally have hung back until the House finished its work.

This has been true not only of the present Senate Finance Committee under Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., but also of committees in previous Congresses, under Republican as well as Democratic chairmen.

The Constitution does not say the Senate must wait until the House is finished, but that leads into the second explanation: Practicality — Until the House Ways and Means Committee finishes its public and executive hearings, there literally isn't a tax bill in existence. The House hearings are held on the President's tax message, not a bill, and what winds up in the House bill can be far different from what the President proposed.

Byrd and other chairmen have contended it would be a waste of time for the Senate committee to hold hearings on something

High Tribunal Smiles, Ladies Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three women lawyers from Louisville, Ky., were admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court Tuesday and received an unusually broad smile and a special little welcoming comment from Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The women, Mrs. Maude Hughtett, who says she is close to age 75, her sister, Mrs. Mae Stricklin, age 80, and Mrs. Hughtett's daughter, Josephine, who doesn't tell her age, were presented to the tribunal by a Washington attorney, David Previat.

"It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the bar of this court," said Warren. "If you will proceed to the clerk's desk you may take the oath."

All of the justices looked up at the trio, several of them smiling in welcome as did Warren. The three women went through the brief ceremony without saying a word to the court, itself, as is customary.

that may not be in the House bill at all. Until the House sends over a bill, interested witnesses have no clear idea of what the Senate has to deal with.

The Senate acts as a sort of court of appeals for officials of the executive branch of the government and others who want to ask changes in what the House has voted. In this situation it makes sense to wait and see what various interests might want to appeal.

Vanity and Prestige — The House Ways and Means Committee is a powerful one, and proud of it. Its members would hardly be eager to hold joint sessions with senators, as senators have something of a reputation for stealing the show when they get a chance.

There's still another important personal element in the present situation:

Byrd doesn't want to cut in taxes without assurance of a cut in spending and he's not one to be stampeded.

Rhodes' Inlaw May Lose His Liquor License

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' brother-in-law faces possible suspension of his liquor permit as the result of a crackdown on juvenile drinking which Rhodes has urged.

The relative, Donald C. Rawlins, owner of Don's Inn in Columbus, will be cited before the Ohio Liquor Control Commission for sales to minors, the assistant chief of liquor law enforcement, Wade Knight, says.

Liquor agents arrested Rawlins' bartender, David L. Meisse, 28, of Grove City, on a charge of sales to a minor last Friday. Florence V. Page, 20, of Columbus, also was arrested on a charge of using false identification to obtain liquor in the bar.

Both pleaded innocent Saturday in Municipal Court. Their cases have been continued until Oct. 30.

Prisoners Hold Jobs Outside

BALTIMORE (AP)—An advertising salesman clears his desk at the end of the day. South of town, a construction worker borrows his employer's pickup truck for a 6-mile drive.

A laborer in a nearby quarry telephones to say he will be late—he must work overtime again.

All three are serving prison sentences. They are participating in Maryland's new work release program for prisoners.

There are 19 prisoners — 16 men and 3 women—taking part. They include a truck driver, farm hand, kitchen worker, laundry worker, nurse's aide, clerk, construction worker and mechanic.

Their offenses include robbery, burglary, housebreaking, larceny, assault, domestic cases and fraud. The prisoners spend their nights in seven of Maryland's nine correctional institutions.

James W. Curran, commissioner of the Maryland Department of Correction, says the offenses of the participants often are misleading. "They are only labels," says Curran. "Most of the time there are extenuating circumstances."

Only narcotics and sex offenders are excluded from the program.

The program began under a law introduced by Democratic State Sen. Edward O. Weant Jr., and passed this year by the general assembly. The first participants arrived on the job July 1.

Only North Carolina has a similar statewide program, created in 1957, although Wisconsin authorizes local jails to operate their own work release program.

About 2,000 of Maryland's 5,

600 prisoners are trustees and work each day, weather permitting, outside the prison. But they wear prison uniforms and are under supervision and guard.

Its a different story for the work release prisoner. He leaves the prison without supervision and wears whatever clothes are appropriate for the job. The aid man, for instance, changes into a suit.

Some walk to work. Others ride public buses. Sometimes the employer provides transportation.

"Our ultimate goal," says acting director Frederick E. Terri-noni, "is to get the prisoner paroled." He says the worker release program "teaches the prisoners to accept and learn obligations."

To be eligible, the prisoner can be serving a term of no longer than five years. Curran estimates that 90 per cent of the 4,000 prisoners committed each year fall into this category.

Township Trustee Authority Defined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Township trustees have no authority to create a township manager's position or hire anyone for that job, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has informed Montgomery County Prosecutor Paul R. Young.

The attorney general also offered an opinion, at the request of Sandusky County Prosecutor John D. Starn, to the effect that even if a clerk of courts has resigned, no vacancy technically exists until he gives up his office. Starn had asked if the County Central Committee could select a successor before the effective resignation date.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Township trustees have no authority to create a township manager's position or hire anyone for that job, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has informed Montgomery County Prosecutor Paul R. Young.

The attorney general also offered an opinion, at the request of Sandusky County Prosecutor John D. Starn, to the effect that even if a clerk of courts has resigned, no vacancy technically exists until he gives up his office. Starn had asked if the County Central Committee could select a successor before the effective resignation date.

Bronco Billy, 81, Recalls Very Early Days of Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I made a lot of money with one hand and I spent it with the other. I have no regrets. Money is nice to have when you're young, but it wouldn't do me any good now."

The man speaking was Bronco Billy Anderson, who 60 years ago appeared in the first real movie, "The Great Train Robbery." He could be classed as the first real star of films.

Bronco Billy, 81, is vigorous-minded despite a leg ailment that confines him most of the time to his Wilshire District apartment. He lives in a single room, heavy with cigar smoke and mementos from his great days as Western hero and film mogul. Atop the television set rests the Oscar he was awarded in 1958 for his contributions to the screen.

He is enjoying one of his periodic re-acquaintances with the spotlight. He'll be featured on NBC-TV next Monday on David Wolper's review of the Western film, "Hollywood and the Stars." The network paired him with one of the newest cowboy stars, Gary Clarke of "The Virginian."

The old man seems to thrive on the attention and he reminisces vividly about what he calls the diaper-days of movies.

It all started when he convinced Edwin S. Porter to expend a whole nine minutes of film on an old vaudeville sketch called "The Great Train Robbery."

"Before that, movies had been no more than two minutes long," he said. "Our backers were reluctant. They said audiences wouldn't sit still for a whole reel. I said they would, and they did."

The film was a boon to the spawning industry, and Anderson came to Los Angeles to seek locales for shooting Westerns.

"I tried making movies with authentic cowboys and backdrops, but something was wrong; they weren't selling," he said. "I decided it was because there was no central figure for the audience to get interested in."

So he bought a Peter B. Kyne story about Bronco Billy. Finding no name actor willing to take the role, he assumed it himself. For six years he ground out Bronco Billies, retiring in 1914 under the overpowering competition of William S. Hart.

French Abandon Base at Bizerte

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—France Tuesday evacuated the Bizerte base over which about 3,000 men died in a battle in July 1961.

The evacuation of the base was hailed by Tunisia as eliminating the last obstacle on the path of cooperation between the two nations.

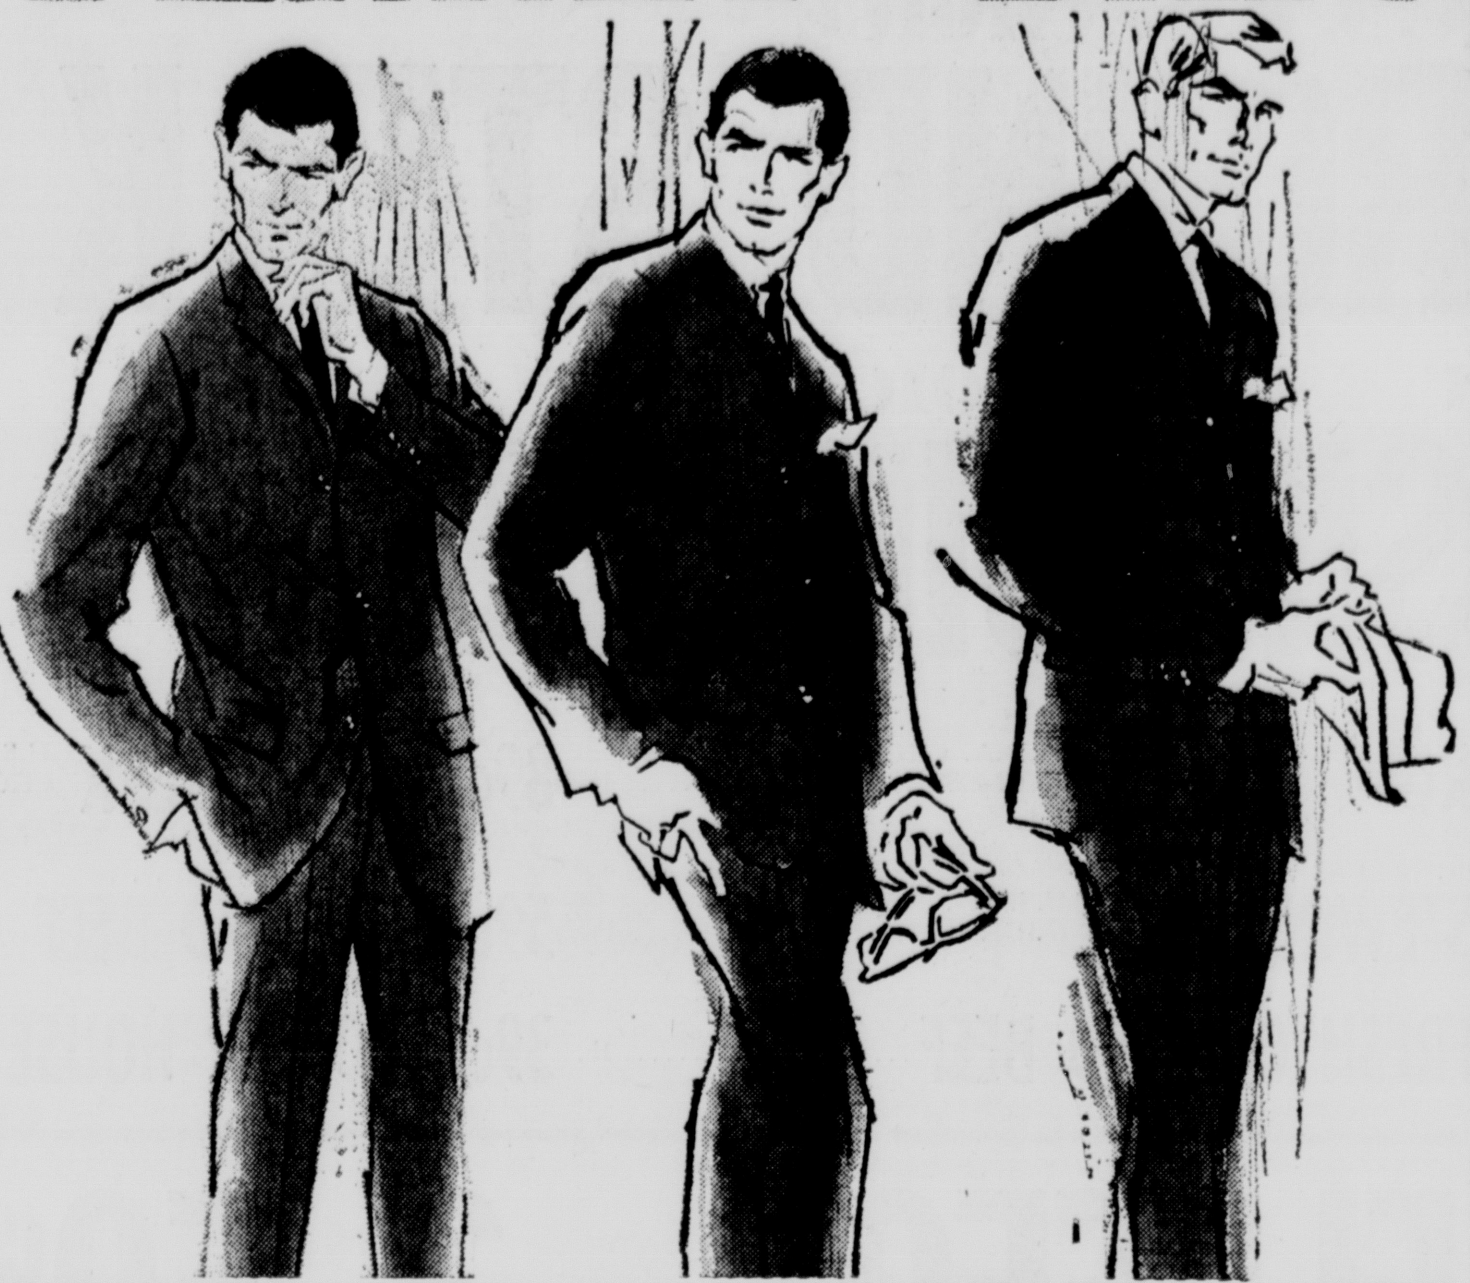

Flags were hoisted throughout the country and crowds celebrated the victory in the long and thorny struggle to force France from its last military base on Tunisian territory.

A chess set exhibited in East Germany in 1960 portrayed the king as a worker reading an economic plan and the queen as a woman scientist. Pawns carry hammers or sickles.

WHITISH "SLEEPERS"

Q. What causes the white discharge which collects at the corners of the eyes?

A. White secretions which accumulate at the corners of the eyes are mucous and eye-gland secretions, together with dust and other debris cleared away by the eyelid movements. A moderate amount of whitish material isn't cause for alarm.

ECTOPIC PREGNANCY

Q. What is an ectopic pregnancy and how often does it occur?

A. Ectopic pregnancy refers to any pregnancy outside the uterine cavity. The majority of such pregnancies are located in the fallopian tubes (tubal pregnancy). Normally, the fertilized ovum traverses the tube and implants itself in the uterine wall. In tubal pregnancy the fertilized ovum attaches itself to the tube. The wall of the tube is thin and sooner or later the tube ruptures. The latest figures we have on the incidence of ectopic pregnancy come from New York City, where there were 34 ectopic pregnancies per 10,000 live births in 1957.

Bronco Billy, 81, Recalls Very Early Days of Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I made a lot of money with one hand and I spent it with the other. I have no regrets. Money is nice to have when you're young, but it wouldn't do me any good now."

The man speaking was Bronco Billy Anderson, who 60 years ago appeared in the first real movie, "The Great Train Robbery." He could be classed as the first real star of films.

Bronco Billy, 81, is vigorous-minded despite a leg ailment that confines him most of the time to his Wilshire District apartment. He lives in a single room, heavy with cigar smoke and mementos from his great days as Western hero and film mogul. Atop the television set rests the Oscar he was awarded in 1958 for his contributions to the screen.

He is enjoying one of his periodic re-acquaintances with the spotlight. He'll be featured on NBC-TV next Monday on David Wolper's review of the Western film, "Hollywood and the Stars." The network paired him with one of the newest cowboy stars, Gary Clarke of "The Virginian."

The old man seems to thrive on the attention and he reminisces vividly about what he calls the diaper-days of movies.

It all started when he convinced Edwin S. Porter to expend a whole nine minutes of film on an old vaudeville sketch called "The Great Train Robbery."

"Before that, movies had been no more than two minutes long," he said. "Our backers were reluctant. They said audiences wouldn't sit still for a whole reel. I said they would, and they did."

The film was a boon to the spawning industry, and Anderson came to Los Angeles to seek locales for shooting Westerns.

"I tried making movies with authentic cowboys and backgrounds, but something was wrong; they weren't selling," he said. "I decided it was because there was no central figure for the audience to get interested in."

So he bought a Peter B. Kyne story about Bronco Billy. Finding no name actor willing to take the role, he assumed it himself. For six years he ground out Bronco Billies, retiring in 1914 under the overpowering competition of William S. Hart.

French Abandon Base at Bizerte

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—France Tuesday evacuated the Bizerte base over which about 3,000 men died in a battle in July 1961.

The evacuation of the base was hailed by Tunisia as eliminating the last obstacle on the path of cooperation between the two nations.

Flags were hoisted throughout the country and crowds celebrated the victory in the long and thorny struggle to force France from its last military base on Tunisian territory.

A chess set exhibited in East Germany in 1960 portrayed the king as a worker reading an economic plan and the queen as a woman scientist. Pawns carry hammers or sickles.

WHITISH "SLEEPERS"

Q. What causes the white discharge which collects at the corners of the eyes?

A. White secretions which accumulate at the corners of the eyes are mucous and eye-gland secretions, together with dust and other debris cleared away by the eyelid movements. A moderate amount of whitish material isn't cause for alarm.

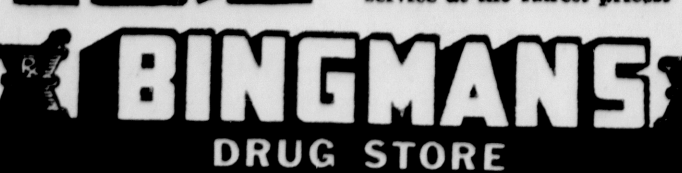

ECTOPIC PREGNANCY

Q. What is an ectopic pregnancy and how often does it occur?

A. Ectopic pregnancy refers to any pregnancy outside the uterine cavity. The majority of such pregnancies are located in the fallopian tubes (tubal pregnancy). Normally, the fertilized ovum traverses the tube and implants itself in the uterine wall. In tubal pregnancy the fertilized ovum attaches itself to the tube. The wall of the tube is thin and sooner or later the tube ruptures. The latest figures we have on the incidence of ectopic pregnancy come from New York City, where there were 34 ectopic pregnancies per 10,000 live births in 1957.

Tampa Police Unable To Curb Gangs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate probes heard testimony Tuesday of Mafia terrorism in central Florida's gay playland—killing and racketeering too carefully managed by a national crime syndicate for any local police force to crush.

Police Chief Neil G. Brown of Tampa told the Senate Investigations subcommittee there have been 23 "gangland slayings" in the Tampa area since 1928, only one of the resolved.

Brown said the killings show "how the Mafia uses murder to discipline its membership, to revenge itself against violators of its code and to otherwise eliminate opposition to its criminal activities and goals," and how difficult it is to get witnesses to talk.

Of 145 homicides other than gang killings between 1958 and the end of 1962, he said, only four remain unsolved, and every homicide in the 1960-62 period has been solved.

Brown appealed for federal help for the police of all states and cities in the war on organized crime in which, he said, there are too many frustrations now.

Come, Spend Lunch Hour With Viet Nam Outpost

AP CO CO, Viet Nam (AP)—Come along for lunch in the headquarters building of the out post defending this village deep in the Mekong Delta area of South Viet Nam.

In one corner of the room is a two-way radio embedded in a concrete wall in an effort to keep it from being seized by Communist Viet Cong attackers. In another corner is a boa constrictor. The snake is a baby, about four feet long, a pet kept by the men of the unit.

The food for lunch, a blend of Vietnamese and Chinese is good. There are chicken, beef, pork and vegetables in various mixtures, and boiled dry rice. The local beer is served with cracked ice.

The conversation is interesting. The province chief tells you that every night the outpost sends most members of its two 30-man platoons out on patrol against Communist guerrillas. The men of the post, who gravely salute every visitor, civilian and military, proudly display their weapons and equipment. Many of them have families here with them, living with in the circle of barbed wire, earth embankments and sharp ened bamboo stakes that surround the post.

Pictures of President Ngo Dinh Diem and members of his family and government hang on the walls of the headquarters, but the talk is of the fight against the Viet Cong, the trading in the market, the rice crop not of politics or high policy matters.

Outside the headquarters hazardous wooden stairs lead to the watchtower. There a young Vietnamese clutching a carbine and another with a portable field radio look out over the flat, wetland of the delta.

A couple of visitors decided take a walk. Two self defense corps men with rifles tag casually along. They wade through the mud past a Chinese merchant's shop, where a surprising variety of household articles, clothing and sundries can be found.

A narrow footbridge takes the strollers across a canal. Suddenly a machine gun opens up along the river.

Friendly or unfriendly. No one seems to know, but the province chief hurriedly suggests that the route of the walk be changed.

It is, back along a path that leads to the outpost. Inside, the boat stirs sleepily in the midday heat. The watchtower guards look out over the flat, wet land of the delta.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—After 15 years and 109,500 cigarettes, I have quit smoking.

So have 29 other men—all of us taking part in an experimental stop-smoking clinic that bolsters will power with drugs and psychology.

The clinic has been under way for a month and I have not had a cigarette since it began. Desire for one is almost negligible. A month ago it dominated me.

Although clinic doctors are withholding final judgment on their work until six months have passed, my mind is made up—Roswell Park Memorial Institute has a technique that helps a smoker stop without too much of a wrench.

MAN TO WATCH—With Acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler and Sciences Minister Lord Hailsham more or less neck-and-neck for the Conservative Party leadership in Britain, the man to watch in case of a stalemate is Lord Home (above), Britain's foreign secretary.

Of the 60 men who started in the clinic a month ago, 30 no longer are smoking, 19 have reduced their smoking by at least half, one man has cut back less than half, and 10 others dropped out.

When the clinic began, Dr. Charles A. Ross, the director, said that if 50 per cent quit smoking for six months he would consider the clinic a success.

Besides will power, the clinic employs the psychology of group action and two drugs—one to substitute for nicotine, the other to control appetite, which often increases sharply in the absence of smoking.

Drugs were given for the first two weeks to 30 of the men. Other 30 received imitations. Neither the doctors nor the participants know who received the drugs. This information is contained in a code that will not be broken until the six months have passed.

Ross thinks that at least some of the men quit without benefit of the drug—lobeline, which stimulates the nervous system as does nicotine.

Participants in the experiment report varying reactions.

Arnold Viner, a 28-year-old teacher, says, "I haven't had a cigarette since the clinic began and I haven't missed them."

Donald R. Denk, 29, a lawyer who decided to quit smoking after suffering a perforated ulcer, reports "I stayed off about 10 days." Then came a cocktail party, and he flunked.

He is smoking about a pack a day, half of his previous consumption.

I have passed the cocktail test and the other tests — drinking coffee, facing tense situations, arguing politics, all without benefit of cigarettes.

Ohio College Prexies Backing Issue No. 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Passage of State Issue No. 1, the proposed $250 million bond issue on the November ballot, has been urged by the Ohio Association of College Presidents.

The association, made up of presidents from both private and state-supported institutions, stated in a resolution Tuesday that the proposal would mean $175 million for higher education. Presidents of private schools said they supported the issue on the belief it would "benefit all Ohio education."

Tigers Will Meet Indians In Homecoming Encounter

It will be homecoming at Hillsboro Friday night when the Highland County Indians host the Circleville Tigers in a South Central Ohio League football game.

The Red and Black mentor, Paul Starr, feels the Indians have every reason without the added homecoming incentive to be "up" for the game.

Starr has pointed out several times this season that everybody "wants a piece of us." Opposing coaches have a little difficulty getting their charges mentally prepared for the Tigers.

And Hillsboro, rated prior to the season as a possible SCO title contender, has now lost two consecutive loop contests.

THE INDIANS opened the

Green Hailed As Big Help To Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ernie Green, one of the men playing the halfback spot the Cleveland Browns had hoped the late Ernie Davis would fill, has proved to be worth a seventh draft choice for which he was acquired from the Green Bay Packers.

In fact, off his performance in the Browns' 35-24 triumph over the New York Giants Sunday, he has established himself as a breakaway threat and has taken some of the heat off the great Jim Brown.

Green gained 66 yards on 11 carries against the Giants. He also caught a pass for a seven-yard gain.

But it was the type of running rather than the yardage that impressed the Browns. Green hasn't been a slasher, but he made yards against the Giants even when the Browns' line couldn't make a hole for him.

"We felt that we had to establish Ernie as a threat right away" against New York, Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

Green came to the Browns in the summer of 1962 when it was learned Davis had leukemia and wouldn't be playing pro football.

He will be in the starting lineup when the Browns play Philadelphia here Sunday, trying to make their record 6-0.

season with a 38-0 win over Paint Valley. The following week they edged Milford, 35-30, but lost the last pre-league tune-up tilt, 28-8, to Dayton Wilbur Wright.

Opening the league schedule, Hillsboro downed Greenfield, 36-22. But they were upset by Franklin Heights, 28-22, in the second league game. Washington C. H. defeated the Highland Countians, 14-8, last Friday.

The Circleville Tigers had their win streak stopped at 20 last week at Wilmington when they dropped a heartbreaking tilt by a one point margin, 22-21.

The Roundtowners opened the season with a 7-0 win over Olentangy. The next week they topped Teays Valley 41-0 and then rolled a 28-8 win over Reynoldsburg.

Although winning the first two games in the league, the Tigers had rough going all the way.

It was not until the final quarter when they scored a touchdown that they held a safe lead over Pleasant View. The Tigers won that one, 19-6.

ON THE following week, Gary Betts' touchdown interception and Tom Tootle's talented toe provided the only score as the defense came through to hold Washington C. H. scoreless in a 7-0 tilt.

And last week the Tigers had to go without the services of Duke Fyffe.

Fyffe again will be missing from the lineup this week. The bruising Tiger fullback, an all South Central Ohio League choice last year, was told Saturday by Ohio State University trainer Ernie Biggs that it may be five or six weeks before his knee is healed.

His injury, apparently strained or pulled ligaments, was sustained in the Washington C. H. game.

Although Starr is quick to point out that no man is indispensable on a football team, he adds the staff felt Fyffe's experience might have made the difference in close games.

Mike Ramey, Fyffe's replacement at fullback, has been sitting out practices early this week with a bruised knee. Ramey, who turned in a creditable performance in his first appearance at fullback, has been advised by his physician that rest is the best thing for the injury.

HOWEVER, it is not expected to keep him out of action Friday, Starr said. Spirit in the Tiger camp is good, according to the coaching staff.

The staff reports there have been more "challenges" for starting positions this week than ever before. The team has been working exceptionally hard.

Hillsboro runs from an I offense and the Indians use a great many different plays — "A lot of offense" in the words of coach Paul Starr.

They are a dangerous ball club, according to the scouting report.

So apparently another thrilling ball game is on schedule for Tiger fans this week.

Elsewhere around the league, it will be Wilmington at Greenfield, Washington C. H. at Miami Trace, Circleville at Hillsboro and Pleasant View at Franklin Heights.

Teams that have suffered one loss in the league are Circleville, Washington C. H. and Miami Trace.

Columbus TV Books OSU-Trojan Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — WBNS-TV, Columbus, will carry live from Los Angeles the inter-sectional football game Saturday between Ohio State and Southern California.

Station officials said Tuesday the game will follow immediately the Columbia Broadcasting System's telecast of the Purdue-Michigan game.

Special permission to carry the OSU-USC game was obtained from the National Collegiate Athletic Association, WBNS-TV officials said.

Student Ducats Are On Sale for Game

Student tickets for the Circleville-Hillsboro football game are on sale today at the high school building. They will be available tomorrow and Friday at the Gallaher and Risch Drug Stores.

There will be no pre-sale of adult tickets, according to Richard Snouffer, CHS principal.

Ed Meador, defensive captain of the Los Angeles Rams, intercepted a pass in each of the first two games.

Tiger Frosh Downed, 14-0

The Circleville High School freshman football team lost 14-0 to J. A. Smith yesterday at Chillicothe. The Tiger frosh have a 1-2 season record.

The Tiny Tigers started out well, according to coach Bill Mosure, taking the opening kick off and moving downfield 40 yards. But they fumbled on the host school's 25 yard line and lost the ball.

After that initial drive they were unable to move the ball consistently.

The winners scored in the second and third periods. Both touchdowns climaxed fairly long drives.

On Oct. 24 the Tiger frosh host Chillicothe Mt. Logan.

Georgia Tech QB Wins Honors

ATLANTA (AP)—"I don't consider myself doing all the work. It was a great team effort."

So said Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech quarterback who is known as "Mr. Do-It-All" at Georgia Tech because he is one of the few triple-threats in these days of football specialists.

Lothridge was discussing his performance in Tech's 23-7 victory over Tennessee last Saturday, for which he was named Associated Press Back of the Week for the second time in three weeks.

"It's a great honor but I didn't do it all," said the 21-year-old senior. "I had plenty of help."

Against Tennessee Lothridge scored one touchdown, passed 54 yards for another, kicked two extra points and a field goal and averaged 41 yards punting.

Local Horse Wins Honors At Roundup

The stallion also placed fourth in the ladies western show horse class and fifth in Palomino halter. He was shown in all classes by Miss Jackie Frazier.

Royal McDonald a registered pinto gelding owned by Mrs. E. H. Frazier, Circleville, brought home the blue ribbon in his halter class. He also placed fifth in the championship pinto show horse western class.

Both horses are stabled at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns plans to use two quarterbacks throughout the season. The are Jim Ninowski and Frank Ryan.

Green Hailed As Big Help To Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ernie Green, one of the men playing the halfback spot the Cleveland Browns had hoped the late Ernie Davis would fill, has proved to be worth a seventh draft choice for which he was acquired from the Green Bay Packers.

In fact, off his performance in the Browns' 35-24 triumph over the New York Giants Sunday, he has established himself as a breakaway threat and has taken some of the heat off the great Jim Brown.

Green gained 66 yards on 11 carries against the Giants. He also caught a pass for a seven-yard gain.

But it was the type of running rather than the yardage that impressed the Browns. Green hasn't been a slasher, but he made yards against the Giants even when the Browns' line couldn't make a hole for him.

"We felt that we had to establish Ernie as a threat right away" against New York, Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

Green came to the Browns in the summer of 1962 when it was learned Davis had leukemia and wouldn't be playing pro football.

He will be in the starting lineup when the Browns play Philadelphia here Sunday, trying to make their record 6-0.

HOWEVER, it is not expected

season with a 38-0 win over Paint Valley. The following week they edged Milford, 35-30, but lost the last pre-league tune-up tilt, 28-8, to Dayton Wilbur Wright.

Opening the league schedule, Hillsboro downed Greenfield, 36-22. But they were upset by Franklin Heights, 28-22, in the second league game. Washington C. H. defeated the Highland Countians, 14-8, last Friday.

The Circleville Tigers had their win streak stopped at 20 last week at Wilmington when they dropped a heartbreaking tilt by a one point margin, 22-21.

The Roundtowners opened the season with a 7-0 win over Olentangy. The next week they topped Teays Valley 41-0 and then rolled a 28-3 win over Reynoldsburg.

Although winning the first two games in the league, the Tigers had rough going all the way.

It was not until the final quarter when they scored a touchdown that they held a safe lead over Pleasant View. The Tigers won that one, 19-6.

ON THE following week, Gary Betts' touch down interception and Tom Tootle's talented toe provided the only score as the defense came through to hold Washington C. H. scoreless in a 7-0 tilt.

And last week the Tigers had to go without the services of Duke Fyffe.

Fyffe again will be missing from the lineup this week. The bruising Tiger fullback, an all South Central Ohio League choice last year, was told Saturday by Ohio State University trainer Ernie Biggs that it may be five or six weeks before his knee is healed.

His injury, apparently strained or pulled ligaments, was sustained in the Washington C. H. game.

Although Starr is quick to point out that no man is indispensable on a football team, he adds the staff felt Fyffe's experience might have made the difference in close games.

Mike Ramey, Fyffe's replacement at fullback, has been sitting out practices early this week with a bruised knee. Ramey, who turned in a creditable performance in his first appearance at fullback, has been advised by his physician that rest is the best thing for the injury.

Columbus TV Books OSU-Trojan Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — WBNS-TV, Columbus, will carry live from Los Angeles the inter-sectional football game Saturday between Ohio State and Southern California.

Station officials said Tuesday the game will follow immediately the Columbia Broadcasting System's telecast of the Purdue-Michigan game.

Special permission to carry the OSU-USC game was obtained from the National Collegiate Athletic Association, WBNS-TV officials said.

Student Ducats Are On Sale for Game

Student tickets for the Circleville-Hillsboro football game are on sale today at the high school building. They will be available tomorrow and Friday at the Gallaher and Risch Drug Stores.

There will be no pre-sale of adult tickets, according to Richard Snouffer, CHS principal.

Ed Meador, defensive captain of the Los Angeles Rams, intercepted a pass in each of the first two games.

Tiger Frosh Downed, 14-0

The Circleville High School freshman football team lost 14-0 to J. A. Smith yesterday at Chillicothe. The Tiger frosh have a 1-2 season record.

The Tiny Tigers started out well, according to coach Bill Mosure, taking the opening kick off and moving downfield 40 yards. But they fumbled on the host school's 25 yard line and lost the ball.

After that initial drive they were unable to move the ball consistently.

The winners scored in the second and third periods. Both touchdowns climaxed fairly long drives.

On Oct. 24 the Tiger frosh host Chillicothe Mt. Logan.

Local Horse Wins Honors At Roundup

The stallion also placed fourth in the ladies western show horse class and fifth in Palomino halter. He was shown in all classes by Miss Jackie Frazier.

Royal McDonald a registered pinto gelding owned by Mrs. E. H. Frazier, Circleville, brought home the blue ribbon in his halter class. He also placed fifth in the championship pinto show horse western class.

Both horses are stabled at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns plans to use two quarterbacks throughout the season. The are Jim Ninowski and Frank Ryan.

Meet the Tigers

Howard (Hodgie) Dade is the last of the Circleville High School football candidates to be introduced in the Meet the Tigers feature and Jim Wood is the first of the managers. Dade is 5-feet, 7-inches tall and weighs 153 pounds. He is a halfback candidate. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Dade, 216 E. Mill St., and he is a sophomore. Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett D. Wood, Route 3. He is a junior and is a member of the Circleville track team.

AP Guesspert Picks College Grid Victors

Arkansas Given Nod To Topple Top-Rank Texas

HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points.

This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge.

That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's totals to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming weekend:

Wisconsin over Iowa: Hal Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates.

Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The West Virginians too big for their own good.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Illinois over Minnesota: The surprising Illini display their talents at homecoming.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Billy Lothridge of the Engineers can run, pass and kick.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Navy over Virginia Military: This game features the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Roger Staubach is the prize pearl of the Middles.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Baylor over Texas Tech: Coach John Bringers has his pro-style offense clicking.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken.

Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this bruiser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Others: Cincinnati over Detroit, Iowa over Colorado, Nebraska over Kansas State, Wichita over Louisville, Michigan State over Indiana, Purdue over Michigan, Notre Dame over UCLA, Delaware over Ohio University and Missouri over Oklahoma State.

In five exhibition football games this year the Cleveland Browns scored only 71 points.

Oklahoma Coach Denies Ousted Looney Lost Game

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "it was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "Somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday. "I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to make it because of his attitude."

"My biggest regret is that I allowed him to come back to the team this year. But he wanted to come back and I let him. This way, it's harder on Joe Don."

"I'm really sorry for the boy but I had no choice."

"Team morale had ceased to exist. It's awful easy for us to look like villains, but we protected this guy for more than a year and we can't continue to protect one boy at the expense of 55 others."

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford automobile family's William Clay Ford is laying $6 million on the line to buy the Detroit Lions.

Bill Ford, a scion of the famed auto world's Fords and who is president of the National Football League club, created a sensation at the Lions' directors meeting Tuesday with the surprise offer.

Ford offered the reportedly startled Lions' directorate the $6 million for full control.

The Lions now are governed by a board of directors responsible to 144 stockholders.

For his $6 million Ford would get a squad of players and the Lions modest headquarters office, the club's only tangible assets.

The 38-year-old Ford Motor Co. official—he is a company vice president — is the first member of his family to be a sportsman on a major scale.

William Clay is one of three grandsons of auto pioneer Henry Ford.

Ford's offer to buy came with the Lions struggling to get back on the winning track. The Lions, considered title contenders at the start of the season, have dropped three of their five games.

NEW YORK (AP) — What must be one of the historic events of television took place Tuesday with the "Town Meeting of the World."

To accommodate Telstar II it was shown at 8:30 a.m., EDT, but CBS, American host of the hour-long program will rebroadcast it tonight at 7:30-8:30.

Four eminent churchmen sat down together, electronically speaking, to discuss what CBS called "The Christian revolution."

In Rome there was Cardinal Rugambwa of Tanganyika and a Catholic writer, the Rev. Hans Kung of West Germany. From London came the Right Rev. Leslie Newbign, a Presbyterian who is head of his church in South India. From Princeton, N.J. Theological Seminary came the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry of the American Lutheran Church.

Telstar was temperamental throughout the program and on several occasions the sound was lost from Rome.

The big questions raised, many involving Christian unity and the population explosion, sounded controversial but the answers were never heated.

Richard Boone's recent automobile accident disrupted, along with his own NBC series, this week's "Password" plans. The CBS game show, taped recently in Hollywood, had booked Boone for its day-time panel along with Jane Wyatt.

When Boone was unable to appear on the Monday and Tuesday shows host Allen Ludden joined the panel while announcer Jack Clark took over Ludden's job. As a player, Ludden committed all of the sins which he, as moderator, frowns upon. He used his hands to amplify clues and once threw out a two-word clue which brought a reproval from the judges.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, who guided the New York Yankees to the American League pennant in 1963 despite injuries to star outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, was an overwhelming choice as the American League Manager of the Year today.

In the balloting by 71 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll, Houk received 58 votes. Al Lopez, pilot of the second-place Chicago White Sox was the runner-up with 6 votes.

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Ernie Knott died in a Baltimore hospital today, a day and a half after he battled for a $250 purse.

Doctors said a blood clot on the brain killed him, and even had he lived he would have been partly crippled. Knott died at Provident Hospital at 6 a.m.

He was knocked out in the ninth round of his fight with Wayne Bethea of New York Monday night.

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas tackle Scott Appleton, selected by Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal as the outstanding All-America candidate on the nation's top-ranked football team, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

The 21-year-old senior and team co-captain looked every inch an All-America last Saturday as undefeated Texas rolled to its fourth straight triumph with a devastating 28-7 victory over Oklahoma.

Playing both ways, Appleton made or assisted on 16 tackles. He led the first scoring drive at offensive tackle and set up the third touchdown by knocking Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Page loose from the ball, recovering it on the Sooners' 18-yard line.

Arkansas Given Nod To Topple Top-Rank Texas

HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points.

This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge.

That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's totals to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming weekend:

Wisconsin over Iowa: Hal Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates.

Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The West Virginians too big for their own good.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Illinois over Minnesota: The surprising Illini display their talents at homecoming.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Billy Lothridge of the Engineers can run, pass and kick.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Navy over Virginia Military: This game features the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Roger Staubach is the prize pearl of the Midlands.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Baylor over Texas Tech: Coach John Bruggers has his pro-style offense clicking.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken.

Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this bruiser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Others: Cincinnati over Detroit, Iowa over Colorado, Nebraska over Kansas State, Wichita over Louisville, Michigan State over Indiana, Purdue over Michigan, Notre Dame over UCLA, Delaware over Ohio University and Missouri over Oklahoma State.

In five exhibition football games this year the Cleveland Browns scored only 71 points.

Oklahoma Coach Denies Ousted Looney Lost Game

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "it was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday. "I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to make it because of his attitude."

"My biggest regret is that I allowed him to come back to the team this year. But he wanted to come back and I let him. This way, it's harder on Joe Don."

"I'm really sorry for the boy but I had no choice."

"Team morale had ceased to exist. It's awful easy for us to look like villains, but we protected this guy for more than a year and we can't continue to protect one boy at the expense of 55 others."

Ford Scion Would Buy Out Lions

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford automobile family's William Clay Ford is laying $6 million on the line to buy the Detroit Lions.

Bill Ford, a scion of the famed auto world's Fords and who is president of the National Football League club, created a sensation at the Lions' directors meeting Tuesday with the surprise offer.

Ford offered the reportedly startled Lions' directorate the $6 million for full control.

The Lions now are governed by a board of directors responsible to 144 stockholders.

For his $6 million Ford would get a squad of players and the Lions' modest headquarters of office, the club's only tangible assets.

The 38-year-old Ford Motor Co. official—he is a company vice president—is the first member of his family to be a sportsman on a major scale.

William Clay is one of three grandsons of auto pioneer Henry Ford.

Ford's offer to buy came with the Lions struggling to get back on the winning track. The Lions, a considered title contenders at the start of the season, have dropped three of their five games.

Church Bomb Victim, 12, Hoping To Regain Sight

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Four weeks ago today Sarah Jean Collins, 12, was eagerly awaiting the start of school. Now she lies in darkness at a hospital.

Sarah Jean was injured in the blast that rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church Sept. 15.

Four Negro girls were killed, including her sister, Addie Mae, 14. Sarah Jean's eyes were cut by flying glass.

Sarah Jean's daily existence now is through sounds. She can't do what she likes the most—to read.

Her right eye is covered by a patch; her left eye is uncovered, but swollen and she cannot see through it. Doctors say she will probably regain useful vision.

Nurses say Sarah Jean has moments of deep despondency and at other times peeps up. Never will she volunteer to talk about the bombing.

"Sometimes my eyes hurt," she told a visitor Tuesday, running her fingers back and forth across the bandages.

Sarah Jean says she heard about the deaths of the four other girls over the radio. With the others she was getting ready to sing in the choir when the blast went off.

She has a special friend in University Hospital, C. S. Norton, a young Negro who works in the radiology department.

"She adopted me as her brother, and I've adopted her as my everybody else."

Sarah Jean was asked how she feels about the church bomber now that a full month has passed. Her lips moved once but she said nothing.

Norton answered instead. "As for the bomber, people are praying for him. We wonder what he would be thinking today, if he had children. No one knows who bombed the church but God. . . . He will face God. We turn this problem over to God, because no one else can solve Birmingham's problems. We leave it up to God to solve them."

Council Approves Subdivision Plat

One of five ordinances enacted by City Council last night accepted a plat for a proposed subdivision in the Nicholas Drive-Fairview Ave. area.

The project will bear the name Courtland Subdivision. The plat, showing 11 lots, was presented by Better Homes Building Center of Chillicothe.

Representing the Chillicothe firm was Donald Haines. Serving as his attorney was Carl Leist of Circleville.

The proposed subdivision is adjacent to property owned by the Circleville Board of Education. Haines and Leist have already met with school officials to determine and fix responsibilities concerning development of the area.

THE SCHOOL board has passed a resolution noting that it stands ready to meet its obligations concerning a street through the area, curbs and gutters and sewer lines.

Circleville's Planning and Zoning Commission also approved the plat and recommended approval by Council.

The plat originally was submitted to Council at the Oct. 1 meeting. However, the accepting ordinance was not introduced after the solons termed several provisions of the proposal and matters of procedure as incomplete.

Much of the discussion in the first meeting centered on the width of a street that would divide the subdivision and property that tentatively would be the site for a new high school. A bond issue passed here in November. The earlier plat called for a 32-foot street, considered not large enough by Council. Last night's specification for a 40-foot street met with approval.

Haines indicated he will get his project under way as soon as possible. He expressed thanks to Council and the Planning Commission for their willing cooperation.

In other legislative action, the city fathers approved:

AN ORDINANCE authorizing the safety director to advertise for bids for furnishing the city police department with gasoline for vehicle operation for fiscal 1964.

An ordinance appropriating $1,000 to the street construction, maintenance and repair fund. This money will be used for repair of the city's mobile street sweeper.

An ordinance appropriating $325 for members and personnel of assessing and equalizing boards who worked in connection with Sewer District No. 2. This measure rescinds an earlier ordinance which could not be implemented due to a technicality.

An ordinance fixing the yearly salary of City Auditor Marvene Turner. The scale was set at $4,500 per year.

In other business, Ezra Shannon, Watt St. resident, reported on unhealthy conditions now engulfing Hargus Creek westward from Plum St. He termed low water and the throwing of rubbish and debris into the creek as the cause.

Council President Harold Clifton referred the complaint to the health committee. Members said an investigation will be conducted.

ERVIN LEIST public utilities head, announced that tentative plans call for an open house Nov. 3 at the city's new water plant just off of Island Road. More information on this event will be released later.

Leist also announced that the city's water situation appears to be in "good shape" despite serious drought conditions. He said the Circleville's new water plant and elevated storage tank have made the difference between an adequate water supply and what in years past would have been considered a critical situation here.

The utilities boss said in previous years, such dry conditions would have required drastic curtailment of water use here. So far this year such an order has not been necessary.

3 Boys Held In Sabotage Of Buses

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three teen-aged boys from suburban Bridgetown have been charged with malicious destruction of property in the cutting of brake lines of 19 school buses used by an outlying Hamilton County school district.

Sheriff Dan Tehan said Tuesday night that the boys, all students at Cincinnati Elder High School, admitted cutting the lines so their friends at Oak Hills High School would have a holiday.

The youths were identified as Robert George Simonson and Albert Murnan, both 17, and Thomas Paul McNamee, 16. Simonson and McNamee were arrested at their homes. Police picked up Murnan at a school-sponsored religious retreat.

Elder is a parochial school and its students were off Oct. 10 and 11 because of a Catholic teachers' meeting. Oak Hills is a public school. Sheriff's detectives said the three youths belong to a juvenile gang whose members attend both Oak Hills and Elder.

The damage to the buses was discovered Oct. 11 before the vehicles left the high school yard to pick up students.

'Hot Line' Stages Hourly Quick Brown Fox Chase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once every hour a bell shrills and the "hot line" teletype connection between the Pentagon and the Kremlin springs to life.

A message chatters across that line—across the 5,200 miles separating the center of Soviet power and the U.S. capital.

It's not a life-and-death message from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, or the other way around.

It's a test, made hourly around the clock to be certain the circuit—which has another outlet at the White House — is working and ready in event of an emergency requiring instantaneous communication between the Russian and U.S. heads of state.

This has been going on since the line was declared open on Aug. 30.

If there have been any communications between Kennedy and Khrushchev during the six weeks the "hot line" has been in business, they are being kept secret. The Defense Department and the White House refuse to discuss the subject.

There is reason to believe the hot line was not used during last week's brief tension over Soviet halting of a U.S. troop convoy bound for West Berlin.

The only break in secrecy surrounding hot line messages became last month when William C. Foster, U.S. disarmament agency chief, told a House committee a Soviet test transmission "described in lyrical language the beauties of a Moscow sunset."

The Pentagon refused to give out the text of that Russian message, or any others received since, saying, "transmissions on the communication link between the USSR and the US are considered 'privacy transmissions'."

Apparently teletype operators on the American end of the line haven't tried to match the Soviets in the prose department.

The Americans have confined themselves to the standard. "The quick brown fox jumped over a lazy dog's back."

"It has proven to be the best alphabetical test devised," the Defense Department said.
